

Dear Friend,

December 2024

Newsletter

The election of 2024 is now in the history books. Much has been said about the political stances of each candidate on foreign policy, immigration, the economy, abortion, climate change, and many other issues. Much has been said about the stark contrast in the politician's viewpoints and that you could not have had more diametrically opposed candidates. Much has been said about the background, the families, and the education of each candidate. Little, if almost nothing though, has been brought to light concerning their religious views, the influence of religion on their lives, and how much religion has wielded in the final outcome of the election. Since we have heard so much about everything else, we will use the remainder of this newsletter to look at religion's influence and role in this election.

“Former President Donald Trump has promised to provide faith leaders with direct access to him in the Oval Office if he wins the election. Speaking last Monday at the National Faith Summit in Powder Springs, Georgia, Trump vowed to reinstate the Faith Office he originally established during his first term, emphasizing the critical role of religion in the nation. In response to a question from moderator Paula White-Cain about what a faith office might look like in a second Trump administration, the former president indicated his plans involve a direct line to the Oval Office.... “First of all, we're going to set that up, and we'll be talking to you and all of the people that we just met, and anybody else that you think is appropriate as well,” said Trump. “It's important, and it'll be directly into the Oval Office.” White-Cain, who previously oversaw the faith office during Trump's final year in office, reiterated Trump's promise. “If you just heard what the president said, [the] faith office will be in the Oval Office in the White House and directly reporting to him, because that, to him, is one of the most important things to people is that we remain strong in all of our faiths,” she said. Last month, Trump's campaign announced that Dr. Benjamin Carson, former Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, would serve as national faith chairman. In the announcement, Trump stated, “Kamala Harris and the radical left have waged war on America's faith community since the day they took office. Her selection of Governor Tim Walz as her vice-presidential nominee solidifies their commitment to intensifying those efforts.” The Christian Post, Nov. 4, 2024

For SDA's who understand that religion will be forced on all America at some point in the foreseeable future, Trump's plan is alarming. People of faith will have direct access to the president of the United States. Clearly, these religious people will want to push their agenda's. We have been warned, “When the Protestant churches shall unite with the secular power to sustain a false religion ... when the state shall use its power to enforce the decrees and sustain the institutions of the church—then will Protestant America have formed an image to the papacy, and there will be a national apostasy which will end only in national ruin” (Bible Commentaries, Vol. 7, p. 976). “If the people can be led to favor a Sunday law, then the clergy intend to exert their united influence to obtain a religious amendment to the Constitution, and compel the nation to keep Sunday” (Review and Herald, December 24, 1889).

“The July 13 assassination attempt on former President Donald Trump's life was a recurring theme at a Trump campaign rally in Butler, Pa. on Saturday. Trump returned to speak at the Butler Farm Show grounds in the small Pennsylvania city — the site where, nearly three months ago, a gunman's bullets grazed the Republican presidential nominee's ear, as well as killed one rally attendee and injured two others. "Exactly 12 weeks ago this evening on this very ground, a cold-blooded assassin aimed to silence me and to silence the greatest movement, MAGA, in the history of our country," Trump said in one of his many references to his near-death experience. "But by the hand of providence and the grace of God, that villain did not succeed in his goal, did not come close. Speaking from behind transparent screens owing to heightened security, Trump honored Corey Comperatore — the man who was fatally shot during Trump's rally in July — with a moment of silence. Bells tolled and tenor Christopher Macchio sang Franz Schubert's "Ave Maria," a piece often performed at funerals. Trump also expressed thanks to the Secret Service team and medical professionals who came to his aid. Crowds waited for hours in the Pennsylvania sun to hear Trump speak. Their cries of "Fight! Fight! Fight!" punctuated the action on stage. Other speakers at the event also referenced the July 13 shooting. Surrounded by U.S. Secret Service agents, former President Donald Trump dances his way offstage. Wearing a blue suit and red tie, he's moving his arms, while Secret Service agents in suits stand in front of him and to his side. Eric Trump appeared to blame his father's political opponents for the assassination attempt: "They tried to kill him," Trump's son said. "And it's because the Democratic Party, they can't do anything right." NPR, Oct. 5, 2024

So, Donald Trump returned to Butler, PA where an assassination attempt was made on his life. During his return, Trump stated that God interposed to protect him. During this program, a man sang Ava Maria, letting everyone know which god it was that delivered him. There is a deeply held belief among Trump's people, Trump, and the evangelical/Catholic world that God spared him. This is very ominous when a politician feels that God is guiding him when his religious faith is questionable at best. Trump was using this song, the attempt on his life, and the occasion to bring millions of Catholics to his side. Ava Maria holds a deeply sacred place in the Catholic psyche!!

From Kenya “PB this work is truly engaging as I see many souls growing by the gospel. Those we think are great beneficiaries of the gospel are far from it. They know the truth but are not sanctified with it. In my field work I have met drunkards who after giving them the books you send FINDING THE PATH TO PEACE, they stop me and share teachings they have gained. I truly rejoice as they happily in their honesty appreciate the books and promise to change. I keep visiting and holding talks with them. I pray daily for them as they have been turned to slavery by the devil. These people encourage us unlike Sda who would reluctantly take our books. October will see us engaged more on public meetings voicing loudly the everlasting gospel. Am determined to openly teach the truth. There are some topics we are holding with some Sunday members. Talking in Tongues, what happens when one dies, Sabbath, second coming of Christ, Mark of the beast. I feel this is an opportunity to utilize to preach to this village in a very remote area. I have come to see the children God is harvesting in churches are zealous to know and accept the truth. We need keep sowing the truth just like Paul and the Apostles did. I look forward to this training meeting. This week I gave books to a brother who too was doing open air meeting at a remote area. I gave him assorted books from what you sent us. He was so happy and said God richly bless your ministry. PB to the many people I have been able to give books, they have benefitted highly by new light. You and your team should cheer up as feedback from the field is ever positive. Many are asking for Pp, Col, secret terrorists, Mb, AA, and I book I give to every home the Bible Readings for the home. These books have brought people to understand scriptures in wider perspective! I will always be grateful for your support both with the books and finances and preaching instruments. We shall do our best to ensure the truth goes to all places we can reach .....Keep the worldwide mission ever supported and we pray God abundantly bless you with health and wealth..."

From Edward, "Kelly Muyambango was born with an eye deformity. His left eye was totally blind. His parents used much of their resources by seeing different eye specialists with hope for their son's blind eye to see but despite all the endeavors of the parents, Kelly remained with his right eye with sight. Living in a community with kids that had normal eyes, Kelly was on many times bullied and that affected his school. His parents who were Christian believers sought a Catholic orphanage which was accommodating impaired children like Kelly to enable them to have basic and elementary education. Learning at a Catholic institute, molded Kelly into Catholic faith and he admired to be a Priest. When he was of age, Kelly with the blessings of his parents got enrolled into a seminary. Though he had a single eye, Kelly was able to read and see. While he was at the seminary (and btw, this is in Tanzania) he was privileged to read various books covering history of Kings of the world, the papacy and other interesting subjects. One day Kelly was researching the case of Martin Luther and he was stunned by the courage he has to stand up for something he knew to be truth. After his training, Kelly was ordained as a priest in presence of his parents, friends and relatives but inside of his heart, he had a big question about the sins of the papacy. He prayed to God to open his blind eye to see His truth. He became uncomfortable with heinous crimes the papacy committed in the long past but remained silent. When the Bishop visited the parish where Kelly was, that Bishop received a very good report about Kelly which impressed him and was recommended to run a small church of Catholic believers in the eastern part of Tanzania. He accepted the promotion and left for the assigned duty as a new priest for an upcoming church. While there Kelly's desire to break his silence begun. In his research, he discovered the Sabbath change and later discovered about the dark ages and other dark evils committed by the papacy. He opened up to his members that he feels he is in a wrong church. And later he told his people about Martin Luther. He was the first priest to allow a Bible study after conducting a mass. This was his own creation as he wanted to speak and to reveal more secrets the papacy did which are never revealed to the world. P.B. God is good. God allowed one of our contacts to go to the village where Kelly was presiding as a priest in that land and he was at the market to buy some vegs when he saw a young man distributing free literature. Since he loves researching, Kelly got the secret terrorist book with enemy unmasked and a few tracts with the number for our contact. These materials caught Kelly in the net. He was shocked to find out more truths he never learned. He learned about the true Sabbath and other wonderful lessons you have printed P.B in those books. He read the books in 10 days and called our contact for more books but this time around, our contact brought him power pack DVDs that buried Kelly and weaved him into a fisher of men. After reading the books and watching all the DVD series of Daniel and Revelation, Kelly burned his priestly robes. He called the Bishop that he is no longer part of the Catholic priests. He was called to speak before a large meeting where other priests and Bishops had convened. Kelly fearlessly prayed to God for wisdom and to guide his tongue and left for that meeting. In the meantime, most of his church members were on his side. Kelly arrived when the heads of the Catholic leadership was seated and he was looked down by many Bishops for leaving the priesthood for the Sabbath. The lead Bishop asked Kelly to explain his reasons why he has left the priest hood and deceived many of his church members to believe him. Kelly was happy to be given that opportunity. He was not wearing a priestly robe but wore casual clothes. He stood up and looked at the several Bishops with angry faces. He told them that he was standing before them all in the spirit of Martin Luther with a question he would need an answer. The Bishops were surprised and opened their eyes to look and listen to a one eye man. Kelly asked them to tell him whether the papacy is right to alter Gods authority? And he wanted the meeting to tell him whether they have read the writings of Martin Luther and Malachi Martin? Those questions brought commotion among Bishops for many of them have never read books that Kelly read. The lead Bishop rose up in anger to shout at Kelly but he stood firm and told the panel of Bishops that they with both eyes have failed to see clearly the many sins of the Catholic system with the papacy that is cheating and misleading masses of People to think there is salvation in empty circles of false worship. He told them that with a single eye, he was able to see what they with both eyes have failed to see. He shamed the papacy by lifting the two books - secret terrorists and enemy unmasked. To most of the Bishops and priests present, it was the first time to see those books. He pointed to the books and kissed them saying God bless them for opening my eyes. That angered the lead Bishop who began to curse Kelly but some wanted to hear more from Kelly and there was a commotion among themselves. Kelly continued to speak until he was sent out leaving the 2 books which were being examined by the other Bishops. The books caused other Bishops to go online and find Truth Triumphant Ministries and begin to learn the truth privately. Kelly was barred to do all his studies in that small church but the people found a school where they have continued to worship in peace. This is the story of the one-eyed man whom God used to catch some good fish into the net. This group has continued to study from the two books and from the DVDs until I shall send them boxes of DVDs with Books and Bibles if there may be any. God has continued to use your voice and the wonderful publication of the two books with other amazing materials you send to Africa. I was thrilled to share with you about the one-eyed man and how God is truly leading His people out of Babylon by simple means of sharing T.T Materials.”
